Pstr. Jenni King Feheley is a loving, joyful advocate for human dignity. With a growing international reputation, Pstr. Feheley has helped people forge connections and strengthen hope when hope has felt elusive. As Director of Community Building and Spiritual Engagement at St. Michael and All Angels Anglican Church, Toronto, Canada, Feheley manages a diverse portfolio that includes pioneering migration ministry, leading the refugee sponsorship committee, co-leading food security outreach through the Beeton Cupboard Foodbank, and establishing important children and youth safety programs. Her innovative work has drawn local acclaim due to its impact and ability to inspire others.

Leading a growing team of 200+ volunteers, Feheley unites community, inclusive of beautiful diversity. Under her leadership, people from a wide variety of backgrounds find a way to share their strengths and grow through their weaknesses, all to the glory of community empowerment.

Her current community role includes responsibility of fundraising. Passionate about the work, and an excellent public speaker, Feheley has been successful in securing the finances required to steadily grow the outreach work of St. Michael and All Angels, including the ability to increase employed members of staff. She is a Stewardship Education Coach for the Anglican Diocese of Toronto, and a supervisory employer for participants of Young Street Mission Opportunity Fund program.

Feheley holds an MDiv. (Honours) from Trinity College, University of Toronto. She also holds a Bachelor of Arts degree (Honours) in Religion and Drama from University of Toronto. She was a successful student of the Academic Bridging Program, University of Toronto, and holds a BTEC Business and Finance diploma from Oxford College of Further Education, Oxford, England.

Pstr. Feheley is a devoted listener. She holds the stories that others share and seeks to make connections that uplift, inspire and bring hope into troubling times. She recognizes her many privileges and skills and seeks to use them for the empowerment of others. She is honoured to be included as the chair for the board of directors of CareLinks Organization and, in line with CareLinks, is dedicated to using her experience to empower others to thrive, for the collective wellbeing of all.
